- 38 The person who represents us in Congress should be someone who will fight for much-needed progressive change—a leader who will lift up the voices of those in our neighborhoods who have been marginalized and underrepresented for far too long. We need someone who will push the Democratic party to pursue the bold solutions that move us forward.
- 13 Not sure

Q11. Here are some statements made by supporters of the candidates for Representative in Congress District 4. To save time, we will ask only three of them. Other people will see statements about other candidates. After reading the statements, please indicate how likely it is that you would vote for them.

	Likely				Not Sure	Total Likely	Total Not
	Very	Smwt	Not Too	At All
Glenn Ivey has served on Capitol Hill as chief counsel to the Senate Majority Leader, and was twice elected as State's Attorney for Prince George's County where he worked with the Obama Administration to cut crime. Endorsed by the Washington Post, Glenn is running for Congress to create good-paying jobs, ensure access to affordable healthcare and housing, make our criminal justice system more just, and give hard-working Americans the chance to succeed - no matter which zip code they're from.	36%	38	10	5	10	74%	16
Donna Edwards represented the 4th district of Maryland in Congress from 2009 to 2016. A district marked by vast inequities in income, healthcare, and education, Donna is running again because we do not get our fair share from Washington. Donna will use her seniority to fight for universal pre-K for every child, reduced prescription drug prices, criminal justice reform, high-speed internet, union-built new roads and bridges, environmental justice, increased public transportation, and requiring the wealthy to pay their fair share for a change in order to help reduce prices for all of us.	32%	40	8	9	12	72%	16
Angela Angel is an experienced attorney, dedicated public servant, and passionate organizer who has worked at the county, state and federal levels to make a real difference in our community. In 2012, Angela found herself pregnant with her fifth child, homeless and fleeing an abusive marriage. Two years later, Angela won a seat in the House of Delegates in the Maryland General Assembly, where she took on prescription drug companies, fought for historic protections for staffers experiencing sexual harassment, and passed legislation to address foreclosures and blight in our neighborhoods. Angela is running to bring the perspective of a working mother who has fought to improve the quality of life for all of our families, and the heart of a champion who will never stop fighting to protect our constitutional rights.	13%	37	20	12	17	50%	33

Q12. Sometimes during a survey like this people change their minds and sometimes they don't. If the primary election for the Democratic candidate for Representative in Congress District 4 were held today, who would you vote for? [If not sure] If you had to choose, who would you vote for?

Q13. Like many people who served in Congress, Donna Edwards has said and done controversial things that people have criticized her for. For each of the following, please indicate whether it troubles you and you would vote against Edwards, troubles you but wouldn't impact your vote, or if it doesn't trouble you at all.

	Troubles you - would vote against	Troubles you - wouldn't impact	Does not trouble you - agree with
Dark money groups supporting Donna Edwards ran negative ads against Prince George's County Executive Angela Alsobrooks, accusing her of corruption, as well as ads against Democratic Senator Chris Van Hollen that were so misleading that they were condemned by the Obama Administration.	64%	24	12
Donna Edwards broke from Democrats and joined Republicans when it personally benefited her. She sided with Republicans to keep a part of her district instead of helping Democrats gain another seat in Congress.	62%	23	14
Donna Edwards was widely criticized for ignoring constituents' needs while in Congress, including by a labor union that said she ignored their requests to fight a new anti-union hospital that forced the closure of a unionized hospital nearby.	55%	33	12
Most members of the Congressional Black Caucus refused to endorse Donna Edwards for Senate in 2016. According to news reports, many considered her abrasive and said she's not an easy colleague to work with. She even used her power in Congress to investigate one of the longest-serving Black women in Congress.	51%	30	19
Some members of the Maryland Jewish community say Donna Edwards was unwilling to hear them out during her time in Congress. "Her perspective was very one-sided when it came to issues dealing with Israel" according to Rabbi Stuart Weinblatt.	36%	42	22

Q14. And here are some statements by critics of Glenn Ivey. For each of the following, please indicate whether it troubles you and you would vote against Ivey, troubles you but wouldn't impact your vote, or if it doesn't trouble you at all.

	Troubles you - would vote against	Troubles you - wouldn't impact	Does not trouble you - agree with
Glenn Ivey donated thousands of dollars to a corporate PAC that supported dozens of Republicans, including Mike Pence.	64%	25	10
Glenn Ivey has repeatedly cashed in on his public service as a lawyer and lobbyist, bragging to corporate clients that he knows judges and used to work for the government. As a lobbyist, he represented big tech and a major cable company. We need to end the revolving door of Washington corruption, and that means refusing to elect former lobbyists like Glenn Ivey to Congress.	55%	31	14
Glenn Ivey personally founded a corporate law firm that has protected polluters and fought against the enforcement of environmental standards and which protects employers accused of discrimination against workers. Glenn Ivey even defended a client who was caught on tape by the FBI trying to bribe a public official.	55%	32	13
More than 20% of Glenn Ivey's campaign funds were donated through a shadowy right-wing DC dark money operation. That same group is also raising funds for 109 Republicans who voted to overturn Joe Biden's election as president. This group may spend over 2 million dollars in Maryland trying to attack Ivey's opponent with negative ads. They've spent almost 8 million dollars through their dark money super PAC trying to defeat progressive Democrats elsewhere this year. Glenn Ivey refuses to reject their support or turn down right-wing money.	50%	37	12
